Folks,

We have not had much luck yet enabling those outside EPA to access the SharePoint site. We will continue to work on this issue. In the interim, please find attached our latest draft spreadsheet that includes the preliminary data from our literature search, and the draft white paper outline we discussed on Tuesday. Please take a look at the draft outline and provide comments on what we need to add / edit. These materials are draft deliberative and should not be shared outside your immediate organization.

Thanks,

Gene

Federal Colleagues,

This is a follow up to our last meeting on February 2nd to discuss the Tire Crumb Research Study (TCRS) Literature Review and Gap Analysis. On the EPA side, we have made some progress with our efforts and wanted to update you. We hope to learn more about ATSDR progress and discuss our collaboration and next steps. I have listed some items for discussion below. Please let me know if you have other items.

Thanks,

Gene

- Analysis and spreadsheet development
- QA – QAPP, Electronic literature review search performed by EPA library
- Plan for working with NCCT on constituent list duplicate identification and p/chem properties
- White paper outline
- SharePoint Site – literature posted, other info
- California efforts & plans
